

JESUS - according to the Scriptures

By Peter Malone MSC

Chevalier Press, 2011

“To read the Newer Testament we need to be acquainted with its cultural (religious) context, and therefore with the sacred writings of the Older Testament. Apart from the many explicit references to them, the Gospel portraits are rich with allusions to the stories and the rituals in which the religion of Israel is expressed. Peter Malone’s focus throughout is precisely on the connections between the portrait of Jesus and the sacred writings that played such a significant part in forming Jesus’ spiritual landscape.”
